Feasting With Panthers: Doctor With a Dog Leash Kept A Very, Very Odd Kennel

LONDON — (NEA) — Long-limbed redhead Christine Keeler, 21, wore a dog collar around her neck and a leash to be led around London on a leash by a society osteopath.

She did this because she admired Dr. Stephen Ward, 50, the osteopath in question. "Stephen had complete control of my life," she explains. "I used to do everything he said. I thought I could never stand on my feet unless he was there to support me mentally."

Today Dr. Ward faces trial for procuring and for living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes including Christine Keeler.

In addition to the sex charges, Dr. Ward is a self-admitted Soviet go-between, having pulled Russian chestnuts out of the fire at the time of the Cuban crisis last year.

It was Dr. Ward who introduced Christine to both John Profumo, the British Secretary of State for War, and to Commander Eugene Ivanov, the Soviet Naval Attaché. Subsequently she had affairs with both of these men, and Dr. Ward loaned her his flat for this purpose.

It was Dr. Ward who asked Christine to get defense secrets from Profumo, according to her testimony. Specifically, he wanted her to get the date when the Americans planned to deliver nuclear warheads to West Germany, she told police.

In that twilight zone where sex and security overlap, where seemingly respectable men sometimes court danger just for the thrills ("feasting with panthers," Oscar Wilde called it), Dr. Ward holds a special place. Consider his extraordinary record:

His patients read like a "Who's Who" of the famous, and included Sir Winston Churchill, Elizabeth Taylor and Paul Getty. Yet the Crown says that he has been living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes such as Christine Keeler and 18-year-old Mandy Rice-Davies.

Dr. Ward is also a portrait artist. He has sketched members of the Royal Family, including Prince Philip and Princess Margaret. Yet, while sketching Prince Philip at Buckingham Palace, Dr. Ward was busy procuring girls under 21 years of age "against the peace of Our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Crown and dignity," according to the prosecution.

In addition to War Minister Profumo, Dr. Ward numbered among his closest friends Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Viscount Astor, whom he called "Bill,"

Hospitality Month Planned by Chamber

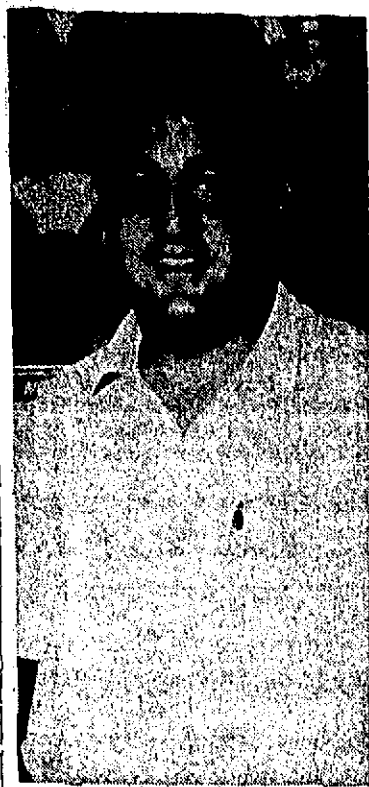

The Hope Chamber of Commerce will stage a Hope Hospitality month from July 24 to August 31.

During this time the famous Shrine Club convention will come to Hope bringing Shines from all over the states. Several hundred will participate in the Shrine parade on the morning of July 27. This will be one of the most spectacular parades ever seen in Hope.

Local citizens are urged to come view this event. Starting on August 12 the Famous Hope Watermelons will be served to 1200 persons over a three day period at four Hope watermelon stands. State, County, and local authorities will help with roadblocks to halt traffic from the hours of 9 a.m. to noon and 2 to 5 p.m.

A small packet of information will be given to motorists who cannot stop for a short period of time. Those who have time to stop will be given a certificate entitling them to a slice of Hope watermelon. When they stop at one of the four stands they will be greeted by a local citizen representing the Hope Chamber of Commerce who will give them information or answer questions regarding Hope and the area. The Hope Lions, Rotarians, Civitans, Kiwanians, B&PW, Jayceettes, and Student Council will supply the

Arguments on Rail Issue Ends Today

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Keeping pace with its emergency timetable a special presidential panel hears final arguments today from both sides in the historic railroad featherbedding dispute.

Wednesday the six-man group, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, will begin writing its report with a preliminary draft scheduled to be ready by nightfall.

The report, containing no recommendations, but merely the facts and issues in the dispute as the special committee has found them, will go to President Kennedy Friday.

The President intends to send the report to Congress Monday along with his recommendations for legislation to solve the crisis. That would give the Senate and House just seven days to act before July 29 deadline.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, predicted Monday that Kennedy would ask for a 30-day cooling off period for one more attempt to settle the issues through mediation.

In case that failed, Bolton said in a newsletter to constituents, the President would also ask authority to enforce compulsory arbitration with "the threat of government seizure in the background." Kennedy has said a strike would be intolerable and many figures in and out of government have agreed.

However, according to Wirtz, neither the railroads nor the unions have made a strong effort to reach a settlement through collective bargaining.

The battle is over the railroads attempt to institute new work rules that would eventually eliminate 60,000 or more jobs that management considers unneeded and calls featherbedding.

The five operating unions deny the jobs are unnecessary and contend that the rail work force is among the most efficient in the country. They contend the jobs on the block — largely firemen on freight diesels — are needed at least for reasons of safety.

The railroads have pledged to withhold rules changes until July 29 and the unions to withhold strike action until that date.

Out, In Prison in Few Hours

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Selvie Windfield (Harry) Wells, 50, who was released Sunday from the Arkansas State Penitentiary, is jailed in Little Rock awaiting transportation to a federal prison. Wells has spent most of the last 30 years in prisons on convictions for kidnapping and robbing Dr. R. B. Robins of Camden in 1933 and robbing a bank at Beeville, Tex., in 1938.

He robbed the bank while free for two months after escaping from the Arkansas prison.

Wells served at Alcatraz on the bank charge, then was released conditionally to finish his Arkansas term. While serving the Arkansas term he drew a three-year sentence for clubbing another convict, so now he's headed for another federal penitentiary to serve more time for the bank job.

Mindszenty May Leave Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Usually reliable sources said today church-state negotiations concerning Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty have reached a stage "which makes his departure from Hungary foreseeable in the next few weeks."

The negotiations, opened in the reign of the late Pope John XIII, were said to have been resumed last week.

The resumption followed the return of two Hungarian church leaders from a Vatican conference with Pope Paul VI, the new Roman Catholic pontiff.

Bishop Endre Hamvas of Csanad, acting head of the Hungarian Bench of Bishops during Cardinal Mindszenty's residence as a refugee in the U.S. legation here since 1956, reportedly related the Pope's views on the prime's case and other pending state-church matters to Communist Hungarian authorities.

The informants said Bishop Hamvas and Msgr. Pal Brezanoczy, apostolic delegate of Eger, had talks with Hungarian officials in which "a basis for a final agreement was found."

Further meetings are expected to be held this week and next.

Murder Trial Gets Started

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Phillip Clayton Dimick Jr., 20, of Jefferson, Ore., was to go on trial in Fort Smith today charged with first degree murder.

Dimick is charged in the fatal stabbing of Dever Hubbard 23, of Van Buren, during a dispute over a small statue of a woman. Dimick is stationed at Fort Chaffee.

2 Shot, Mob Tosses Rocks in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Club-swinging police Monday night broke up a rock-throwing mob of about 300 who gathered at a police station to protest the fatal police shooting of an 18-year-old youth.

Six persons were arrested for investigation of inciting a riot, and five persons were hospitalized briefly with minor injuries. Several policemen suffered superficial injuries.

It was the second major anti-police demonstration in three days over fatal shootings by police.

Saturday, 600 Negroes protested the shooting of a Negro prostitute. That demonstration did not result in injury or property damage.

Police Supt. Eugene Reuter said Monday night's demonstration at a precinct house was "not a racial disturbance." The crowd was white to begin with and at the height of the trouble 75 per cent of those involved were white.

Two of the precincts patrolmen shot Kennedy Evans, 18, white, last Friday. They said he fled on foot, ignoring a warning shot, after abandoning a stolen car.

Saturday's demonstration resulted from the shooting of Cynthia Scott 24. A patrolman said she slashed him with a knife while he was attempting to arrest her. She had a record of 11 convictions.

In both shootings cases, Wayne County prosecutor Samuel Olsen exonerated the patrolmen involved.

Damage High But No Deaths Are Reported

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Flash floods caused by heavy rains washed this resort city for more than four hours today, leaving hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage but no reported deaths or injuries.

The rain began shortly after midnight and was still coming down at 10 a.m. But by that hour the 4-foot floodwaters had receded in most of the city, including an eight-block downtown area that was hardest hit.

The sheriff's office said the surrounding area still was hard hit by floodwaters. Malvern, 23 miles southeast, reported flooding in the area but none in the city.

Floodgates of Remmel Dam on Lake Catherine between Hot Springs and Malvern were opened to drop the lake level and allow the flood waters to drain into the lake.

But this posed the problem of an 18-foot rise in the Ouachita River, which runs southward from the dam. The Weather Bureau warned of waters three to five feet above flood stage on the river.

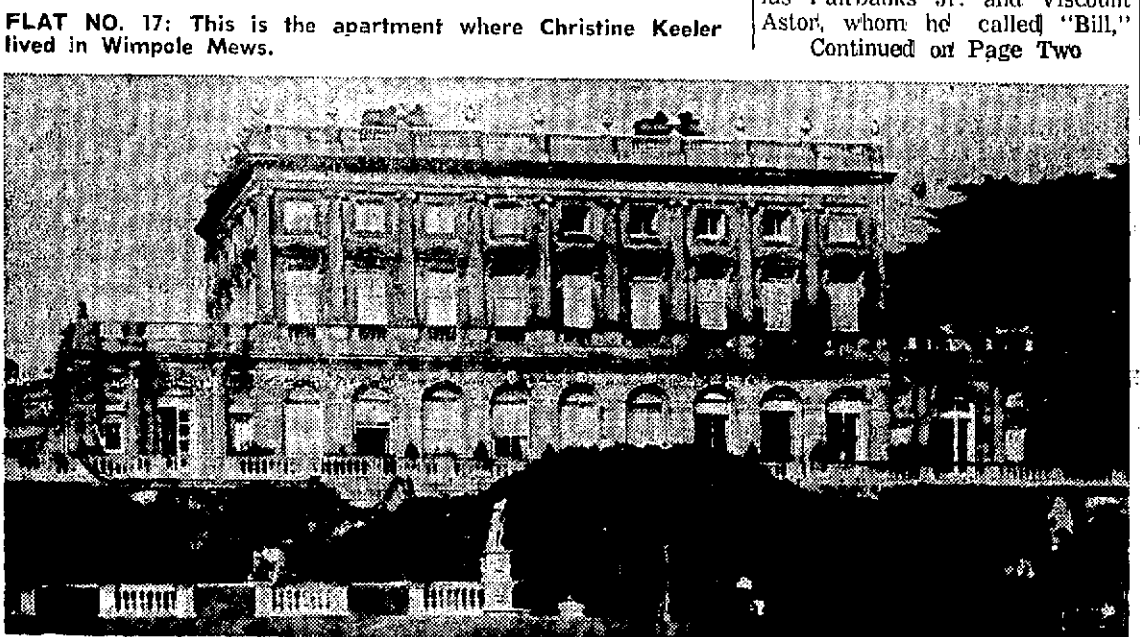

Hot Springs got 6.71 inches of rain between midnight and 6 a.m. Malvern got 4.88 inches. Highways 5, 7 and 270 were closed near Hot Springs due to high water.

Police were using boats to get stranded residents out of flood-begged houses. The sheriff's office said people were sitting on roofs in the Mountain Pine area northwest of Hot Springs.

It was Hot Springs' worst flood since May 14, 1923, when the water rose to a depth of 10 feet in some sections of Central Ave. in the heart of the city. On that day, seven inches of rain fell in a little more than two hours.

Hot Springs' thermal baths, which have made the spa world famous, were shut down today until the National Park Service can determine that there has been no contamination of the water. All both houses along scenic Bath.

Ned Williams, Pioneer Railroader, Dies at 78

Ned Williams, 78, pioneer railroad machinist, traveling auditor, and gunsmith, of 311 E. 13th St., died Friday midnight in a local nursing home.

Mr. Williams, whose railroad career started in the last century, was born at Fordyce, and he married a childhood sweetheart, Alice Eskridge of neighboring Thornton. They had lived in Hope since 1925, but Mrs. Williams died in 1953.

Mr. Williams started his career as a machinist's apprentice with the old Thornton and Alexandria railroad, now defunct, eventually becoming a master machinist. "That was before the day of the specialist," he once told an interviewer, "and a fellow worked all over the shop."

He remained a crack machinist and dry wit to the end of his days. An interviewer listening to his clanks on the road as company auditor asked Mr. Williams: "Any pirates in your family? He replied, "Well, and, yes — my maternal grandmother was a direct descendant of Sir Francis Drake."

His only survivors is a cousin, Mrs. Ruth Brandon of Fordyce. The body is at Oakcrest Mortuary where the funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, with burial in Rose Hill cemetery.

Macmillan Silent on Philby Case

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan refused today to discuss the mysterious case of Harold A. R. Philby, the journalist and former diplomat suspected of being a Soviet agent.

Instead, Macmillan threw a cloak of secrecy over Philby's odd disappearance from Beirut last January after Philby had conceded he was the third man in the Burgess and Maclean case.

The prime minister told the House of Commons he would not get drawn into a discussion about Philby's past or delve into Britain's security arrangements because to do so would damage the nation's interest.

Various members of Parliament came forward with probing questions about Philby, the personable former Middle East news correspondent who engaged in counter-intelligence work for the Foreign Office in the war years.

Philby, 51, is believed to be behind the Iron Curtain. The longer his disappearance remains unexplained, the more speculation crops up in the British press that he was a double agent, working for both sides.

On July 1 the British government said Philby had confessed he was the tipoff man who enabled diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean to skip to Moscow more than a decade ago.

house Row in the heart of the city were flooded.

Water was up to four feet deep in some businesses. Plate glass windows were broken by water and by cars washed onto the sidewalk. Merchandise floated in the streets.

The Mill Creek area east of Hot Springs was especially hard hit. The Red Cross found shelter for two families left homeless after their houses were washed off the foundations. One family had four small children, the other had three.

Little Rock Air Force Base sent a helicopter to get a family of three off the roof of their home northeast of the city near Blakley Mountain Dam. The helicopter crew planned to hoist the family into the craft.

The telephone company said 1,200 phones were out of service, and damage to telephone lines alone ran upwards of $100,000.

The floodwaters in the downtown area were carried away by an extensive drainage system, including a huge drain under Central Ave. Observers who watched the big drain on the outskirts of town said it ran like a raging river.

Creeks were flooding all over the west-central Arkansas area. A small dam was washed out on Cove Creek near the National Lead Co. and Magnet Cove Barium Co. plants near Malvern. Roads to barium mines in the area were reported caving in.

State Police in Little Rock said Hot Springs officials had asked that travelers be asked not to come to the resort city today because they would be turned back by high water.

To raise funds for this project of telling the Hope story to approximately 6,000 people in a five-day period the Chamber of Commerce will offer tickets on the largest motor grown this year. Tickets are $5. each. Bud Collier, Forest Singleton will spearhead a campaign to place tickets with local citizens.

The Chamber of Commerce feels that this can be the best tourist information program ever used in this area, and at least 1,200 persons should go away knowing Hope a great deal better. Another 4 or 5 thousand will know a little more about Hope Hospitality. Local citizens are urged to cooperate by buying watermelons tickets and volunteering to serve at hospitality centers. still at the height of the flood, about 7 a.m. But when the waters receded, emergency traffic was allowed in the downtown section and all highways were expected to be open later in the day.

One man thought he saw a body floating down a street in Hot Springs, but it turned out to be only a department store mannequin that had been washed through a broken plate glass window.

After the waters receded, merchants settled down to the heart-breaking task of sweeping mud out of stores.

The sheriff's department sent an amphibious "duck" onto a road northwest of the city to rescue the J. B. Scot family, which was stranded. Another man was rescued by a boat on U.S. Highway 270 south of the city.

"Downtown looked like a lake," said one observer. Parts of streets were washed up. Mailboxes floated upside down. Debris rushed down the thoroughfares.

More than 30 autos were counted on the sidewalks.

Several persons were driven out of a motel by water three miles northeast of town on state Highway 5. They stood on high ground waiting for the water to recede.

Two fires were started by lightning in the Steep Hollow area, but firemen couldn't reach them. A 10-inch water main broke or was washed out on U.S. Highway 88 east. Employees in the downtown section were contacted and told not to come to work.

ONE THING LED TO ANOTHER AND—!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband was best man at his niece's wedding three years ago. Up to that time she was like one of my own family, invited to the christenings of my three children and other doings.

When I asked if I might watch her wedding rehearsal from the choir loft she said very firmly that only the bride party could be present. I learned later that the maid of honor had her boy friend and aunt at the rehearsal!

Then the niece wanted us to find a place for the groom to stay the night before the wedding and a room where she might change to going-away clothes. Big-hearted I took them in. After that no word of thanks—nothing.

The following year my husband's niece asked him to be godfather to her baby boy. He accepted with pleasure. But neither I nor our three children were invited to the christening! When I protested, the niece wrote me a very nasty letter saying she would do as she pleased and intended having only her uncle and a cousin present at the church or at the dinner to follow at a hotel. This hurt so deep I had hysterics.

To keep peace my husband called her and asked to be excused from serving as godfather, lest his marriage break up. He made it sound as if it were my fault so I told him to hang up. I simply cannot feel the same toward her and she says she never wants to see me again.

My three children are not ashamed of me. I've been doing part-time work for the past two years and am well-liked by everybody in the office so don't think I'm something from outer space—the way the niece would have the family believe. Am I right or wrong in my approach and outlook? —Bothered

Dear Bothered: Your husband's niece is obviously not a blood relative but had blood certainly does exist between you. Apparently your relationship was a very close and friendly one until the time of her wedding three years ago.

Could anything have occurred then? An unintentional slight? A misunderstanding?

There is something bothering your niece. Why not go to her directly and try to clear the air? Send her a copy of this column and tell her I'd like to hear her side of the story.

Concentrate on your own family and friends, and don't permit the injustice of one relationship to sour you on the rest of mankind.

Dear Helen: I am 13 and baby sit for my mother. She works nights. My father, a drinking man, doesn't come home till near one a.m. Mama pays me 10 a week for looking after my two little brothers and tiding the house. I've been doing this three years and it's driving me nuts.

Daddy is a perfectionist but I just can't keep everything clean. Every time I try to talk to him and Mama we wind up in a fight. I miss out on all the parties because I've got to be here. I'm fat which makes it worse because the family teases me. Mama and I aren't close. I have nobody to talk to so am asking you for advice. —Helpless.

Dear Helpless: A 13-year-old should not be expected to carry the load you describe without some relief. Even though your immediate family seem to be working against you there are people all around you who'd be glad to help if appealed to. Talk over your situation with your minister or doctor. The latter could also diagnose the weight problem. Should these people not be available, seek the counsel of your teacher.

Dear Helen: I have been going with a young man four years. During this time we have talked often of marriage. Now he says he's not so sure and, though still caring wants his ring back. He would like to date other girls as well as me. I told him if he takes back his ring, all is over between us. He says I'm selfish. Please print your answer because my elder sister reads my mail. —Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Of course you must returned engagement ring. Be thankful your young man is having his doubts before marrying instead of afterward. Whether you continue dating him depends entirely on how you feel. Personally, I would give other boys first choice if only to show him he isn't the only pebble on the beach. Send for my leaflet, "Broken Engagements."

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

He was commissioned by a London magazine to do portraits of the Royal Family, including Prince Philip, Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon, Princess Marina and Princess Alexandra. Prince Philip, who gave him a half-hour sitting, he found the most relaxed of all.

But Dr. Ward had other interests besides osteopathy and sketching. He was interested in pretty girls, preferably those under 21 years of age.

Many of these girls came from the provinces to London to seek their fortunes, and finding the big city struggle too much for them turned to "Uncle Stephen" for advice.

They were girls from humble backgrounds like Christine Keeler, who met Dr. Ward, when she was 17 and working as a show-girl-hostess in Murray's Cabaret.

Then there was Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies who came to London from Birmingham at the age of 16 to be queen of a motor show. She, too, was befriended by Dr. Ward, who liked to pose as the benefactor of lonely girls.

Today the osteopath faces charges of living on immoral earnings, charges which could lead to a stiff prison sentence.

Seeks Votes for Stalled Cotton Bill

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., head of a House Cotton Subcommittee, has planned some strategy sessions aimed at lining up votes for a stalled cotton bill.

Gathings wants to gather votes in the Rules Committee, where the bill is now held, and in the House itself.

The bill's objectives include: Assistance to domestic textile mills by making domestic cotton available at world prices through a domestic payment which would offset an existing export subsidy of 8½ cents per pound;

Aid to small cotton growers through higher price supports on the first 15 bales of production; it also would let farmers exceed their cotton allotments provided they would accept the lower world price on the excess cotton.

Republicans and the Farm Bureau Federation oppose the bill because of its subsidy provisions.

After three days of hearings, the Rules Committee declined to clear the bill for House consideration. "We need some help," Gathings said. "We need help from the ex-

Sen. Fagan Dies at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Ellis Fagan, 58, a colorful and influential member of the Arkansas Legislature, died Monday in a Little Rock hospital after a long illness.

He was elected to the House of Representatives from Pulaski County in 1932, served his first term, and joined the Senate in 1935. He became one of its most forceful members.

Fagan was a pioneer in aviation in Arkansas and he built a successful electrical construction company from a small motor repair shop.

He sponsored the bill creating the University of Arkansas Medical Center; he co-sponsored legislation creating the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and the state Teacher Retirement System; he was one of the most vocal supporters of the State Hospital.

Fagan was a leader in the fight creating the Highway Audit Commission which investigated alleged highway irregularities under former Gov. Sid McMath.

He was also a leader in the fight creating the Highway Audit Commission which investigated alleged highway irregularities under former Gov. Sid McMath. CHATTER

By "BILL"

The cutest true story we have heard lately happened to a friend of ours in Texas. Her daughter was complaining that she never bought smart looking shoes, always wore the "old-lady" type. The mother remonstrated that she simply had to have something comfortable. Whereupon the daughter said "... Well, couldn't you buy something that LOOKS like it hurts your feet?"

It is the same old story of wanting to look smart and be comfortable all at the same time, which is no small undertaking. However, we honestly believe this season the clothes were designed for both ... lucky day!

For instance a knitted dress, whether it is a one-piece or two, is the essence of comfort. It gives when you move. The smartest imported Italian knit from Bianca comes in gay colors, so flattering to most of us. The tailored, long sleeve dress can be worn with a chiffon scarf, and you can wear it to the ball game ... chunks of your favorite jewelry will dress it up for a party. The price is $29.95.

Jon McCauley's one-piece knit with the shirt-collar and slimming skirt, elastic waistband for comfort, is priced at only $29.95. You can sleep in it and not one wrinkle!

Many smart people declare they cannot wear knits and would not take one if it was given to them. But many smart people change their minds when they try on a Jeanne Durell. They range in price from $35.00 up, depending upon the style, but you will love them all ... they make you FEEL slim and that does it.

We invite you to see our new wool knits; remember the place ... it is Raley's Style Shoppe, 523 West Third St. ... Where our Summer Clearance is in progress — Shopping hours 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Victory 4-H Club Meets

Mrs. Smith was nominated chairman of the clean-up and recreation committees. Helen McCorkle gave a demonstration on "How to make a kitchen wall decoration." Jackie Sumpter and Bill Schooley showed the correct way to tie a tie.

The refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Smith. Several visitors and members were present. The meeting was adjourned.

Faubus Plans to Welcome JFK

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus agreed Monday to deliver the welcoming address when President Kennedy visits Arkansas late in September to dedicate Greers Ferry Dam at Heber Springs.

A delegation from Heber Springs called on Faubus to plan for the visit. Faubus pledged all the cooperation of his office, saying, "We ought to do it right."

He said, however, that he had political differences with Kennedy. "Right now, you could raise more money to keep Kennedy out of the state than to bring him in," Faubus said.

Faubus said that political differences should be forgotten during a presidential visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Huddleston, Leslie, Gary, Kent, Jamie, and Holly from Naples, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Huddleston, Tommy, Rebecca, Leah and Andrea from Magnolia; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley, Mike, David, and Bruce of Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Reeder Huddleston, Douglas, Steve, Teri and Rick from Waco, Tex.; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huddleston, Jeff and Vicki from Nashville.

Mrs. Joe Rogers and Mrs. Claude Barnes called during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard, Teresa Ann and Ranky of Dallas, Tex., were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coop. Randy has remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hairr and Kim, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hairr and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lowe, have moved to their new home at Springdale where he will be associated with the Ralston-Purina Company.

Miss Connie Sams left Monday night for her home in Parkersburg, W. Va., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams and Jacque.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hazard and daughters, Laurie and Sharon, have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Wray, and other relatives and friends.

Susan Jane and Michael Hig-gason of Shreveport are spending two weeks with their grandmother, Mrs. L. F. Hig-gason.

Russia, Red China Recess Their Talks

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Chinese and Soviet delegates took another recess today in their "peace talks" as Moscow and Peking accused each other of attempting to split the Communist world.

Neither delegation showed up at the house in the Lenin Hills where they have been meeting. Each side apparently was trying to force the other to break off the stalemated talks.

The Chinese maintained silence over whether they would continue to meet with the Russians. The Soviet Foreign Office said, "We have no information," when asked if the Chinese planned to leave for home soon.

Meanwhile, Peking for the first time publicly attacked Soviet economic and military aid to India during last fall's Chinese-Indian border war.

The Soviet press was flooded with attacks on the Chinese. Abandoning the polite phrasing which even a week ago characterized most Soviet comments on China, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda blasted "the erroneous views and actions of the leaders of the Communist party of China which weaken the unity of the world Socialist camp and the international Communist movement."

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Monday accused the Chinese of trying to shift the center of international communism from the Kremlin and of setting colored races against white.

Red China is only one step from "a schism of the world Communist center," Izvestia said. It said Peking was trying to find allies among the non-white nations on the basis of "the opposition of the colored peoples and the white race and the demarcation of peoples according to racial, national and continental lines."

The Chinese attack on India was aimed at the point where the split occurs.

The Soviet government has been trying to keep an open door into neutralist India with much publicized aid. It is a sample of the use of economic aid by which the Soviet government hopes to pursue the Communist revolution without risking nuclear war.

China argues that such aid should go to Communist and Socialist countries already pursuing

FOR SECOND TIME — Seven brides received seven kisses after seven couples were married for a second time in Star City, Ark. They were married to satisfy the Social Security Administration's ruling that wives, affected by a 1941 Arkansas law voiding marriages where the groom was under 18 and the bride under 16, would not receive wives' or widows' social security benefits.

Links Faubus to College of Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus' days at Commonwealth College came up before a Senate hearing on President Kennedy's public accommodations bill Monday.

But it was used as an example to show that all persons who come in contact with pro-communist organizations aren't necessarily the revolution against capitalism. The Chinese said the Soviet aid to India played into American hands by lightening the Western burden.

communists.

Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska, noted Alabama Gov. George Wallace's testimony that he believes communists are involved in the integration demonstrations and asked what he would say "if I have proof that a segregationist Southern governor was a student leader in a communist school."

Wallace replied he didn't know who Bartlett was talking about, but he said segregation existed long before there were any communists. Furthermore, he said writings in the Daily Worker and other evidence shows the communists are opposed to segregation.

Bartlett said he had been informed that Faubus was a student leader at the Commonwealth College in Mena, Ark., a school he said is on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Wallace said he knew nothing about that but added that "of course Gov. Faubus is not a communist," Bartlett said he certainly agreed and didn't mean to say

B&PW Increases Memberships

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas Business and Professional Women's Clubs increased their membership 105.5 per cent—third highest in the nation—last year and were honored Monday at the National Federation of B and PW Clubs, Inc., meeting in Dallas.

that Faubus has any sympathy for communists or the communist movement.

The hearing was recessed at that point until today, with Wallace agreeing to return for further questioning.

Also among the witnesses scheduled for today is Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas. Thurmond said he hoped that Bennett would be permitted to show a film that he said shows Rev. Martin Luther King at the Highlander School with some communists.

"We'll take it up with the committee and see what they think about it," said Magnuson, the committee chairman.

DOLLAR VALUE-PLUS

In an emergency the value of medicine can hardly be reckoned in dollars. Medicine is priceless when needed.

Yet it is an interesting fact that nationally the average cost of a pharmaceutical prescription is about $2.50 — and more than half of all prescriptions cost less than $2.00. Although higher than 20 years ago, the increase in the cost of medicine lags far behind that of other, and less essential, commodities.

When you purchase a prescription you are sharing in the fruits of scientific research. You are getting today's best buy.

Signs Hopeful for Test Ban Agreement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW (AP) - U.S. and British delegates met with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko for about three hours today amid signs of increasing hope for agreement on a formula to outlaw all nuclear weapons tests except those underground.

The Western delegates - U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Lord Hailsham of Britain - departed smiling broadly. They drove off together in an American limousine.

Meanwhile, Premier Khrushchev met with French Ambassador Maurice de Jean, whose government is standing aloof from the test ban talks. There was no immediate information on the subject of the Khrushchev-De Jean meeting.

Khrushchev opened the talks with Harriman and Hailsham at the Kremlin Monday. Gromyko took over for the Russians today.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW (AP) - Western diplomats displayed increasing optimism today that the United States and the Soviet Union will agree soon on a treaty outlawing all nuclear weapon tests except those underground.

This is the second time in six months, however, that prospects have appeared bright for a breakthrough in the deadlock.

Predictions of success were therefore restrained. Positions taken by the Western powers and the Soviet Union in the opening negotiating session Monday were cloaked in secrecy. If any stumbling blocks developed, they were not being discussed publicly.

Optimism among Western diplomats stemmed primarily from the warmth with which Premier Khrushchev welcomed the U.S. and British negotiators to the Kremlin and the obvious good mood in which the Westerners left.

SCHOO' COW—We don't know about Mary's Little Lamb, but a cow is going to school in Minneapolis. In fact, she—her name's Pat the Ayrshire cow—is going to a number of schools in the metropolitan area, accompanied by Princess Kay of the Milky Way (Kathleen Hjelte of Argyle, Minn.). It's all part of a program, sponsored by the Minnesota Dairy Industry, to acquaint children and the general public with elements of the dairy industry—of which the cow is a pretty important one. Above, Pat and Princess Kay delight a group of children.

3 1/2 hours later.

A statement issued Monday night disclosed little more than that Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko would speak for the Soviet Union in today's meeting.

The assignment of Gromyko maintained Soviet participation on a high level. It also indicated the meeting was getting down specifically to the problems involved in working out any test ban agreement.

The communique said "questions related to the discontinuance of nuclear tests" had been discussed. It said some other unspecified matters of mutual interest also had been taken up.

Presumably the latter included such issues as the continuing tension in Laos, Khrushchev's renewed proposal for a non-aggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Communist bloc, and the possibility of an agreement among the nuclear powers not to transfer nuclear weapons to other countries.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, representing President Kennedy, and British Science Minister Lord Hailsham, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's special envoy, have instructions to negotiate only on a nuclear test ban.

But Harriman had let it be known he would bring up Laos. The Kennedy administration is worried about preserving the Asian kingdom's neutrality in the face of continuing pressure from Laos' pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction and neighboring North Viet Nam.

Revenue Dept. Bldg. Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock City Manager Board passed a resolution Monday night opening the way for purchase of property on which to build a new Revenue Department building.

The state will furnish the money to get lots west of the state capitol and later may ask to be reimbursed for part of the cost after the city's Capitol View Urban Renewal project is underway. The building is in the project.

Rock Patrolman Jerrell Vaughan was slain after a chase that ended outside the North Little Rock city limits on state Highway 130. Walker is charged with murder in the death of Vaughan.

Witnesses testified that Kumpke held a gun on a crowd in the club but Kumpke denied this.

MYSTERY OF LOVE

By RUTH ENGELKEN

My family is not the gossip type. Well, not as gossip as some. But a little news is a little news and Uncle Nelson liked to hear it before everyone else. So I brought him the news that Rosa Panelli was going with a handsome young man.

"Honestly, Uncle Nelson, I don't understand it," I said. "This young man must be blind. Or maybe he's only being nice to her."

"Maybe they're in love," suggested Uncle Nelson.

"Oh, pooh!" I replied. "She might be, but as for him? He could do better."

"You're forgetting young lady, that love is a great leveler," Uncle Nelson said, tapping a mound of tobacco in the bowl of his pipe.

How that comment applied to homely Rosa Panelli waiting at the bus stop with her boy friend, I failed to understand. But then, Uncle Nelson was always saying silly things that made no sense.

"Just because he's handsome and she's not, you think they don't belong together?" Uncle Nelson turned from the window. "You're only 12 years old. You've got a lot to learn."

I shook my head.

"If I'd live to be a hundred, I wouldn't understand what a fellow with wavy chestnut hair a smile like a toothpaste ad, and a profile like John Barrymore's could see in a girl whose eyes don't focus straight, whose crooked smile looks like a jack-o-lantern's, and whose Buster Brown hair-do has funny bangs and straight sides that end just above the diamonds."

"PUNNY REPORT"

MILL VALLEY, Calif., (AP)—Mrs. F. W. Etzold telephoned police, "there's a bat in my bedroom."

Policeman John Castellani later reported:

"Went to the bat and struck it out."

she's pushed through the holes in her ears.

"Kids only see the surface," he sighed, sinking into the Morris chair.

I perched on the edge of the footstool. "Uncle Nelson, so you really think she'll hook him? She hasn't had other boy friends, you know."

Uncle Nelson put a match to the mound of tobacco and sucked in hard. "Judging from their giggling and nudging, I'd say she had a pretty fair chance."

They began making a habit on Saturday evenings of catching the 7:43 for the eight o'clock movie. "Looks like the fish is caught," Uncle Nelson commented one night as they boarded the bus together.

"Not yet," I countered. "She isn't wearing a ring."

Some weeks later I was in the porch swing putting on fingernail polish when they passed, arm-in-arm. I almost upset the bottle when I heard Mrs. Fuller exclaim, "Congratulations!" and looked up to see Rosa holding out her left hand.

On her finger was an engagement ring.

She was hooking him, all right. But with what kind of bait? Did she use perfume that befuddled him? Did he need glasses, but couldn't afford them? Did he have some sort of warped personality that craved punishment? I couldn't figure it. Dream dust like that!

The week after Pearl Harbor, old Tony Panelli went up and down the street inviting the neighbors to Rosa's wedding reception the next Saturday.

"I'm a happy man-a," he said, his off-center smile gashing across his face.

The orange blossom wreath on top of Rosa's boyish haircut looked out of place as a pair of jodhpurs at a formal tea. The fancy lace dress only accentuated her plainness, while its chalky whiteness swallowed her skin.

The groom, oblivious to the incongruity, hugged her playfully.

Sox Hurler Saves 4th Game in Seven Days

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There may still be a pennant race in the American League if Dick Radatz' arm holds out and Harmon Killebrew's bat remains ablaze.

Radatz, Boston's redoubtable relief pitcher, saved another Monday as the Red Sox defeated Los Angeles 2-1 and Killebrew, Minnesota's home run king, socked another as the Twins overpowered Cleveland 13-1.

The "save" was Radatz' fourth in the last seven days and the home run was Killebrew's fourth in the last five games.

The victories enabled the second-place Red Sox and the fourth-place Twins to gain a full game on the league-leading New York Yankees, who dropped an 11-10, 12-inning marathon to Kansas City, Boston inched to within 5½ games and Minnesota 6½.

Chicago's third-place White Sox shut out Baltimore 4-0 to remain a single percentage point behind the Red Sox. Washington thrashed Detroit 11-6.

In the National League Chicago's surprising Cubs blanked St. Louis 2-0 to drive past San Francisco into second place, six games behind the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers. Philadelphia's Phillies snapped the Dodgers' seven-game winning streak with a 5-4 victory in 11 innings. Cincinnati edged out Milwaukee 4-3 in 12 innings and Pittsburgh swept a two-night doubleheader from the Giants 2-1 and 4-1.

Frank Malzone was the bating star of the Red Sox' fifth victory in their last seven games. He homered off Don Lee in the sixth inning to snap a 1-1 tie. The All-Star third baseman also scored the first run, singling in the second and coming home on Bob Tilton's triple.

Bill Monbouquette, now 13-6, had a four-hitter until Bob Sadowski doubled with one out in the eighth. Radatz, coming out of the bullpen for the 37th time this season, got pinch hitter Leon Wagner to hit into a double play and retired the Angels in order in the ninth for his 10th save. He also has 10 victories in 11 decisions, all in relief.

The homer-happy Twins hit three more, giving them 11 in four games as they rolled to their fourth triumph in succession and third in a row over Cleveland.

The homers, by Earl Battey, Don Mincher and Killebrew each came with a man on base to ease the way for Dick Stigman who coasted to his eighth victory with a four-hitter.

Killebrew's homer was his 21st, only one behind teammate Bob Allison, who leads the league with 22.

The Athletics, battling uphill all the way, finally defeated the Yankees in the 12th after tying the score with one run in the ninth, and again with three runs in the 11th. The winning run resulted from a hit batter and three walks issued by Bill Stafford, the seventh Yankee pitcher. The final walk, to Jerry Lumpe, forced Bobby Del Greco over the plate.

The day's best pitching performance was turned in by rookie southpaw Gary Peters of the White Sox who blanked the Orioles on one hit, striking out 13. The lone Baltimore hit was a two-out single in the third inning by losing pitcher Robin Roberts.

Leaders in the Major Leagues

PITCHING — Gary Peters, White Sox, hurled a one-hitter with a 4-0 shutout against the Baltimore Orioles. Robin Roberts the opposing pitcher, got the hit, a single with two out in the third inning. Peters fanned 13.

BATTING — Dick Ellsworth, Cubs, won his own game by driving in both runs with a single in Chicago's 2-0 victory over St. Louis for his 13th victory against six defeats.

Dolph Schayes to Coach Pro Cage Nats

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dolph Schayes, one of the oldest stars in pro basketball, today is one of its youngest coaches.

"It's going to be quite a change for me," said the 35-year-old Schayes Monday after being named coach of the National Basketball Association Syracuse Nationals, transplanted here at the end of last season.

Schayes, possessor of the longest, highest scoring career in pro basketball, was picked by co-owners Irv Kosloff and Ike Richman to succeed Alex Hannum, who said business interests in his home state of California kept him from moving here with the Nats.

Although he indicated he would do his coaching from the bench, Schayes didn't rule out the possibility of playing if the need arises.

"I'm contemplating coaching," was the way he put it.

The new coach promises "fast-breaking, exciting, winning basketball" from what will be basically the same team that finished second to Boston in the Eastern Division last year, then was surprised by Cincinnati in the first round of the playoffs.

Schayes joined the Nats after graduating from New York University and spent his entire 15-year pro career with them. During that time he played in more regular season games (1,035), scored more points (19,115), shot more free throws (8,216) and made more of them (6,933) than any other pro player.

Campbell Raps Patient Quota

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski County Judge Arch Campbell, attacking the patient quota law as vague and unconstitutional, said Saturday he will not participate in a program to admit persons to the University Medical Center Hospital in Little Rock for free or partially free care.

Campbell said Act 183 of 1963 functions in such a way that a big bill could be added up against the county; that the law set up the program for medically indigent persons without saying what a medical indigent is;

That the county had no personnel who could tell if a person really needed medical attention; that the county would have no control over how long a patient stayed in the hospital;

That tax money could not be spent for illegitimate births; and that the act, the third patient quota act in six years, was unconstitutional.

Plant Is Struck at Crossett

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — Local 739 of the Pulp and Sulphite Workers Union struck the Georgia-Pacific Corp. flakeboard plant at Crossett Monday.

W. A. Sims, international representative for the union, said 94 employees left their jobs at 3 p.m. because of contract disagreements.

Pickets will march at the plant around-the-clock, but will not interfere with guards or supervisory personnel, Sims said.

The union seeks wage increases in various classifications, a well as benefits for vacations, holidays lunch periods, Sundays and others.

R. P. Meredith, personnel director for the Crossett Division of G-P, said the strike offers no solution to the problem.

The plant employs 120 persons but only 94 are union members. The union was recognized in an election May 17. The plant has been in operation since 1961. It was acquired by G-P when it bought the Crossett Co. holdings.

No Misprint, Cubs Are in Second Place

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

That's no misprint in the National League standings —that team in second place is the Chicago Cubs.

And since it's already mid-July, that ranks as one of the big surprises of the baseball year.

Last season, you'll remember, these Cubs finished in ninth place—even behind Houston's brand-new Colts. The season before that it was next-to-last, and the season before that, the same. In fact, you have to go all the way back to 1946 before you'll find the Cubs in a first-division finish.

They took over the runner-up spot Monday—with an assist from San Francisco's collapsing Giants, nipped Rochester 1-0.

Dick Ellsworth and Lindy McDaniel combined for a five-hit shutout and Ellsworth keyed the attack with a two-run single as the Cubs trimmed St. Louis 2-0. Then the Pittsburgh Pirates took care of the Giants, sweeping the defending champions in a two-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 4-1.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Phillies parlayed a two-base error and Bob Oldis' single for an 11th-inning run that gave them a 5-4 decision over front-running Los Angeles, snapping the Dodgers' winning string at seven games and cutting their lead over the Cubs to six.

Also in the NL—a bases-loaded walk to Ken Walters in the 12th inning enabled Cincinnati to edge Milwaukee 4-3; and the New York Mets ended a 15-game losing slump by trouncing Houston 14-5, but the Colts came back in the second half of the doubleheader for an 8-0 romp as Don Nottebart won for the first time since his no-hitter two months ago.

In the American League—Kansas City outscored the first-place New York Yankees 11-10 in 12 innings; the Chicago White Sox blanked Baltimore 4-0 behind rookie Gary Peters' brilliant one-hit pitching; Minnesota bombed Cleveland 13-1; Boston shaded Los Angeles 2-1, and Washington beat Detroit 11-6.

Ellsworth, now 13-6, cracked open the game at St. Louis with a bases-loaded single off loser Ernie Broglio in the seventh inning after singles by Ken Hubbs and Dick Bertell and a walk to Andre Rodgers. Then in the last of the seventh, the Cubs' young southpaw and McDaniel stifled the Cards' big threat.

With the bases filled and none out, Ellsworth struck out Tim McCarver and Stan Musial before McDaniel came in and fanned Julian Javier.

Dodger rookie second baseman Nola Oliver opened the way for the Phils in the 11th inning when he dropped Don Demeter's pop up for a two-base error with one out. Reliever Ed Roebuck then gave an intentional walk to Roy Sievers, who had driven in three earlier runs with a homer and sacrifice fly, before Oldis rapped his clinching single. Jack Baldschun was the winner.

Willie Stargell's two-run single in the last of the ninth sent Pittsburgh to its opening game victory over the Giants and Juan Marichal, who had blanked the Pirates on four hits through the first eight innings. Al McBean, 9-2, won in relief of Bob Friend.

Joe Gibbon scattered 10 Giant hits in taking the second game, with Joe Pagliaroni's homer. Bill Virdon's triple and Dick Schofield's double the key Pittsburgh blows. San Francisco now has dropped four straight games and six of its last seven.

2 Charged in Death of Children

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Charges were filed against four persons Monday by Prosecutor Jeff Mobley in connection with the deaths of two children whose bodies were found buried July 5.

Jerry Kitty Scheuer, 20, of Santa Ana, Calif., was charged under an Arkansas law making it a felony for a mother to conceal the death of an illegitimate child.

John Thomas Potts, 27; Rhodes W. Potts, 53; and William Potts, 15, all were charged with aiding and abetting a felony. John Potts, held on a robbery charge in Albuquerque, N.M., said last week he fathered the children and that one died of natural causes and the other accidentally suffocated.

Mobley said the deaths occurred about March 18 while the group was camped at a roadside parking near Ozark, 37 miles west of Russellville. They were traveling from California to Kentucky and since have returned to California, he said.
